

Summary

A piezo cable is provided as impact sensor, which allows up to four different measuring principles. In addition to the piezoelectric measurement, which causes a piezoelectric pulse in an impact, a capacitive measurement, an inductive

5 measurement and a resistance measurement are possible.

(Figure 2)